
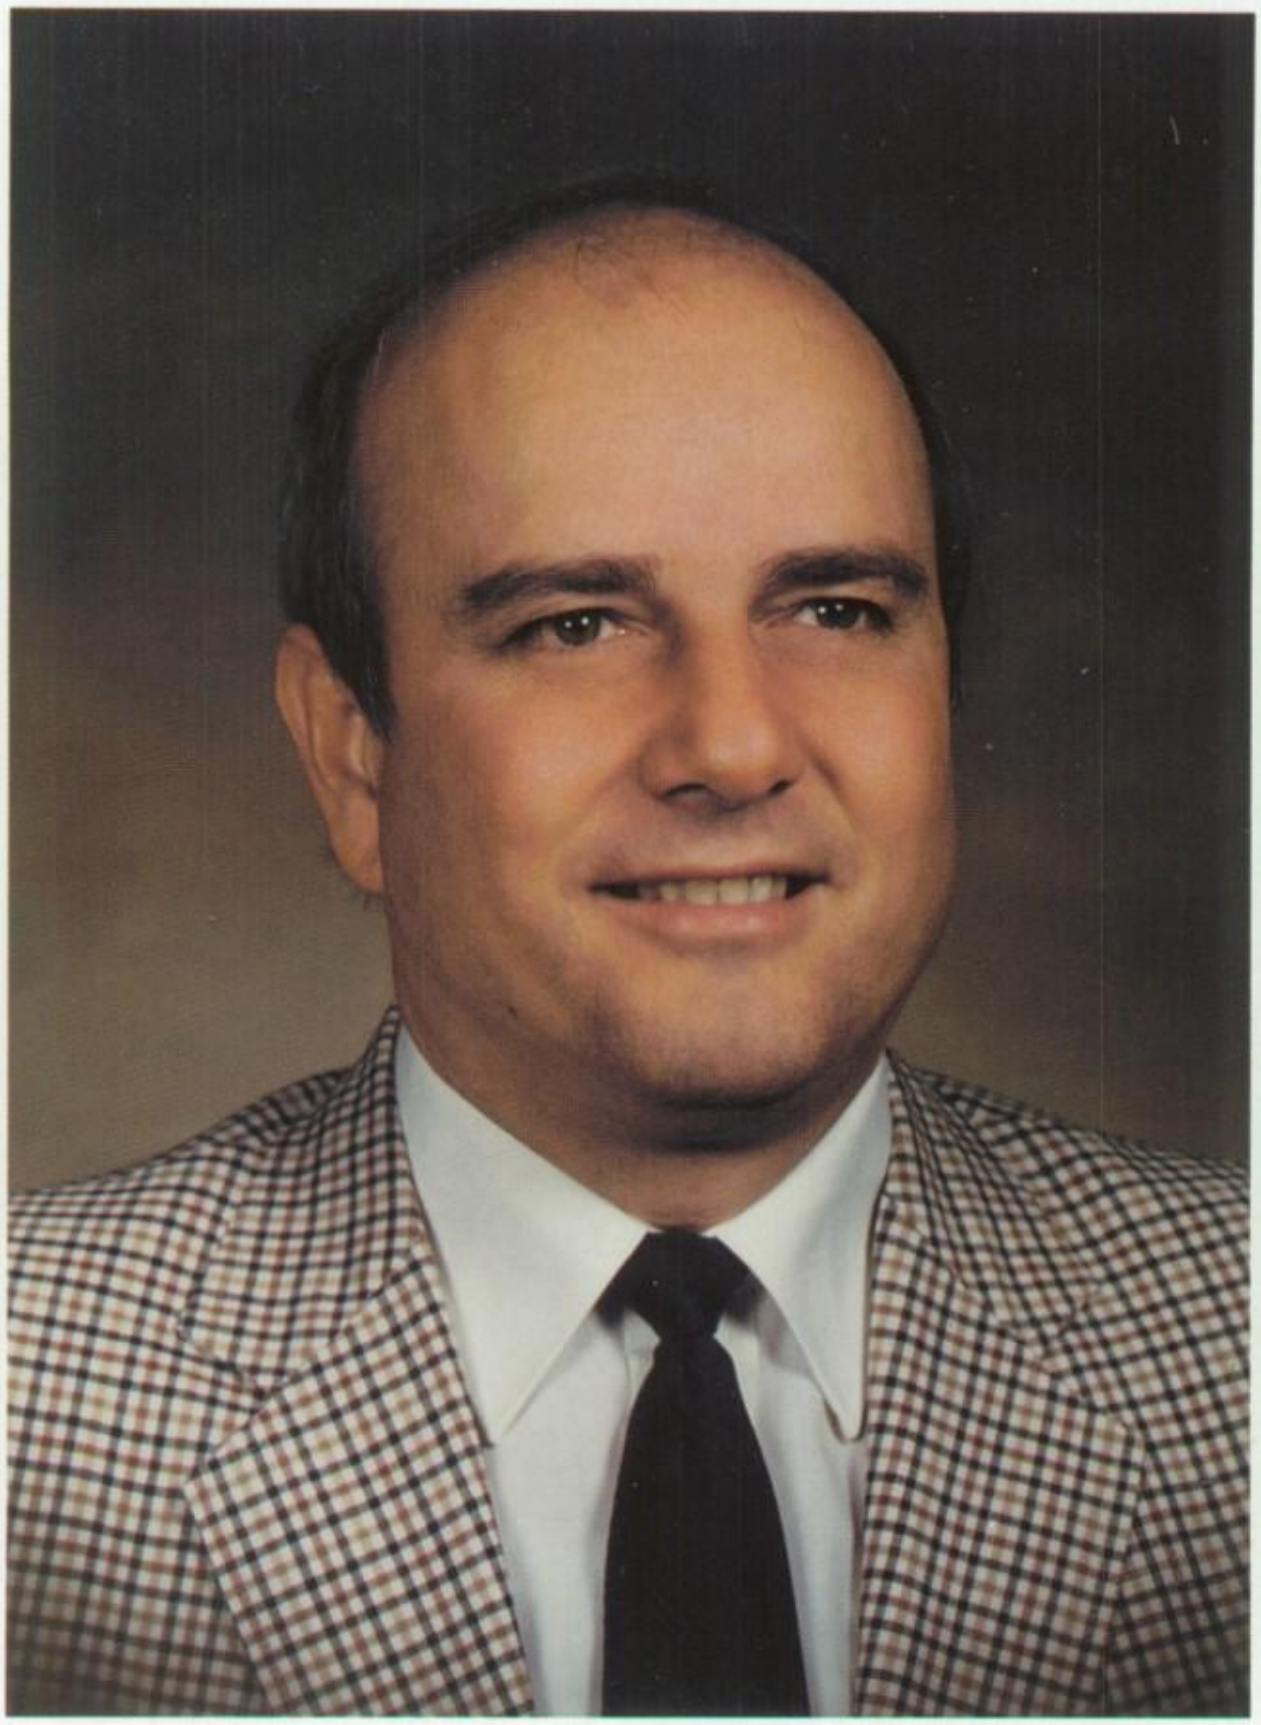
Precious Moments Last Forever

APOGEE
1988

In loving memory of James E. Ray,
Principal 1981-1987



James Ray

On July 20, 1987, Mr. James Ray passed away, and Bowsher lost one of its finest administrators and best friends. From coach to teacher to principal, he exemplified the excellence that Bowsher has always upheld.

A native Toledoan and Woodard High School graduate, Mr. Ray became part of Bowsher's original staff in 1962. He was chairman of the orientation department of the Rebel's first head basketball coach. In his years at Bowsher he served as a teacher, principal of Bowsher Junior High School, counselor, assistant principal of curriculum and then principal of the school he loved in 1982.

His administration was marked by strength, dedication, and accomplishment.

Mr. Ray will always be remembered for his wide smile and for his kind words. He had an uncanny ability to remember the names of all students who had attended Bowsher. He was able to reach out to the student body on an individual basis. He made us feel important. Mr. Ray's belief in the staff and students inspired all to reach for the excellence that he stressed.

For those of us lucky enough to known Jim Ray, and to have been one of the many lives he touched, the memories will last a lifetime.

Precious moments last forever.

Speaking at the 1986 commencement

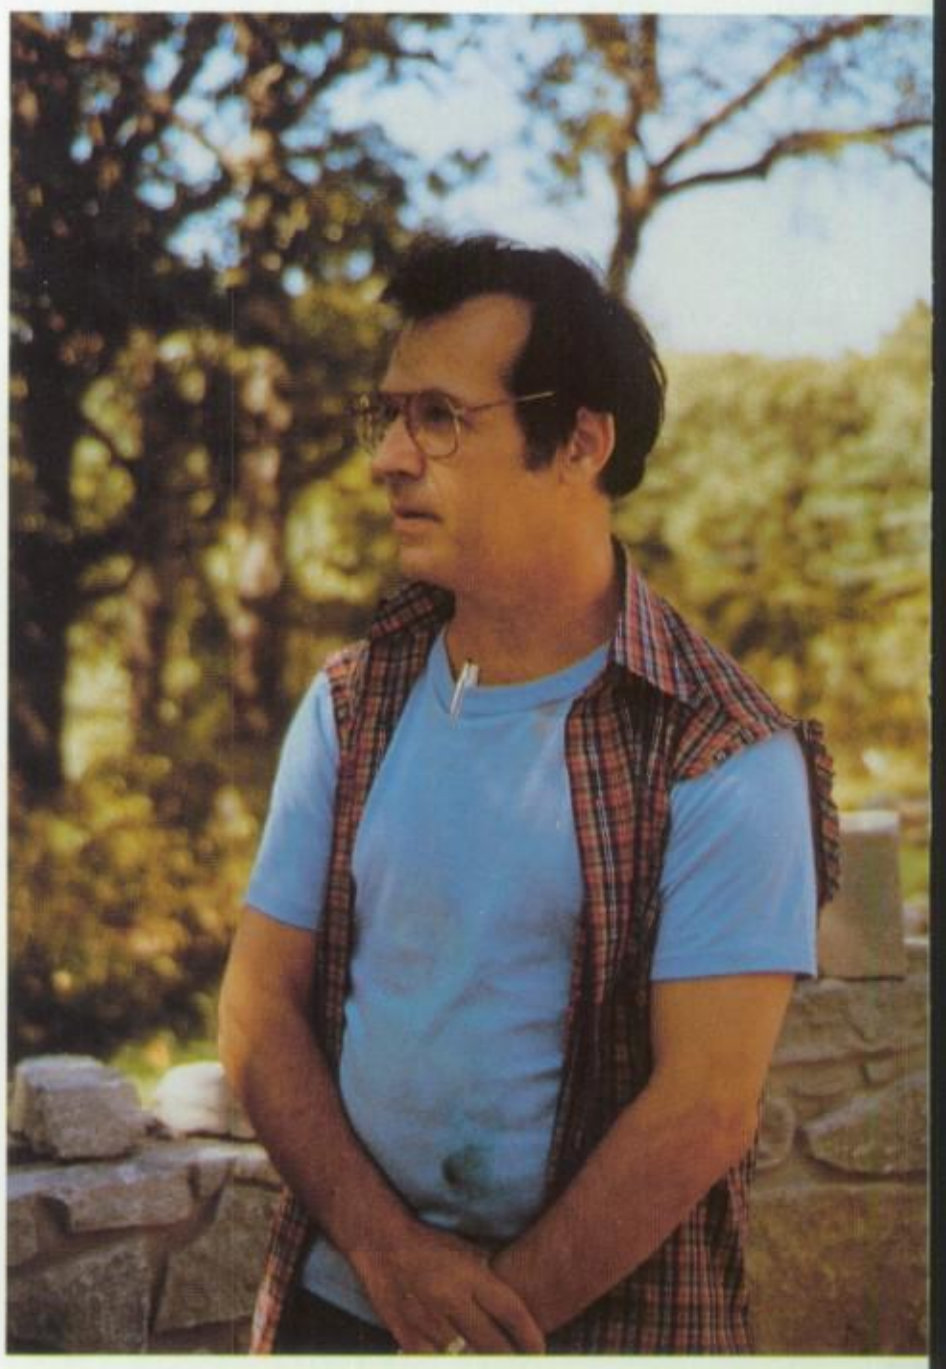
Love is at the heart of all "Precious Moments" creations. They express heartfelt sentiments. Since a yearbook is designed to be a compilation of all of the special events of the school year, it seemed very appropriate to choose as a theme, "Precious Moments".

It was with great trepidation that I sent off a letter to Mr. Sam Butcher asking permission to use not only his trademark, "Precious Moments" but also to incorporate his wealth of drawings into the Apogee's theme. My fears were soon allayed, however. Not long after my letter was sent, I received a personal phone call from Mr. Butcher's son, Jon. He relayed the message that his father was pleased that we wished to use "Precious Moments" as the theme for our yearbook. Not only were we given permission to use the title but we also were allowed to reproduce any of his work.

The caring and love which he generously offered his time and his talent to create an original drawing depicting Bowsher's mascot to be used on our cover. Words cannot adequately describe Sam Butcher's artistic talents. His work speaks for itself.

It is also impossible to satisfactorily express the gratitude which the Apogee staff would like to convey to Mr. Butcher and his associates for allowing us to use his talents to depict the special moments in the lives of the students and staff at Bowsher High School.

On behalf of all of us at Bowsher, I simply say thank you Mr. Butcher — for caring and sharing for helping us depict our special "Precious Moments."



Sam Butcher's artwork first appeared on greeting cards in 1970. The porcellain bisque figurines were introduced eight years later. Since that time, many other times have been produced bearing this unique style of artistry such as plates, cups, bells, stationery, calendars, and dolls.

Mr. Butcher applies his artistic talents to turn everyday situations into meaningful messages about life. And, since home life is so important to Mr. Butcher, his work concentrates on family oriented events and circumstances. He says that he has been blessed with a large and loving family whose members furnish ample reference for "Precious Moments" subjects. Perhaps the most personal expression of the carryover from family to artwork is shown by the "Precious Moments" dolls. They represent some of the immediate family members of Sam Butcher and his partner, Bill Biel. Mr. Butcher and his wife Katie, also a skillful artist, combined their talents to create the dolls which depict the offspring of the artists. He styles them and she designs the body and clothes as well as stitching the fabrics for the originals.

Mr. Butcher resides in Carthage, Missouri where he and members of his family work together with his associates to create items which express sentiments about life's very "Precious Moments."

The '87-'88 Apogee Editors

Producing a yearbook is a team effort. Many people are involved in various capacities and each of them is a vital part of the finished product. Before the actual work could begin, the first priority was to choose a theme for our book. Since memories of high school events are treasured by one and all, "Precious Moments" was chosen to be our theme. I am indebted to Samuel J. Butcher and his associates for allowing us to use both his trademark, "Precious Moments" and his drawings to enhance the Apogee pages. Our advisor, Elizabeth Papps, encouraged the staff to be independent, to make their own decisions, and to function professionally. However, her watchful eyes were always carefully observing and her guidance was always present when needed. We, at Bowsher, are indeed fortunate to have such an excellent yearbook advisor and I thank her on behalf of the entire Apogee staff. A big thank-you also must be given to the publishers' representative, Douglas Bynum, for his advice, his help, and his pleasant manner through the numerous problems, revisions, etc. I am also grateful to those in the office who were so helpful — especially Mrs. Bernadine Powell, Cathy Case, and Ed Boblitt. My parents, Jim and Ruth Heider, deserve many thanks for always helping me out in a bind and for providing the extra encouragement I needed. Sally Snider, artist and Bowsher parent, gave of her time and talent to paint the drawing for our cover. The countless hours spent planning, creating, writing, typing, cutting, pasting, picture-taking along with the other jobs involved in putting together a yearbook were skillfully and thouroughly accomplished by the staff members. A heartfelt thank-you goes to all of those on the staff who worked diligently to produce a book that we can be proud of. It was an honor and a privilege to serve as the 1988 "Apogee" editor. My memories of Bosher HS and the "Apogee" will forever be treasured as special "Precious Moments."

Loni Leigh Heider

During the years that I have been on the Apogee staff, there are many people who have helped me along the way. First I would like to thank my parents for all their love, understanding and confidence that they have in me. Julie and JoEllen, my sisters, were a big help, especially with the deadlines. Jill, Kellie and all my friends who helped my keep my sanity during the years — THANK YOU! Everyone on the 1988 Apogee staff receives a big thank you. Without their dedication and hard work this yearbook would not have been possible. There are some people I would like to thank whose help was greatly appreciated: Cathy Case, who kept our finances in order, Mrs. Bernadine Powell, Ed Boblitt, Doug Bynum, George from Satinwood, Mrs. Genzman, and Hunter Publishing Company. Last and most importantly, I would like to thank Miss Papps. Her guidance and support were the backbone of our yearbook. My four years at Bowsher will always be remembered as "Precious" Moments" and being an "Apogee" editor made them even more special.

This year Bowsher celebrated its 25th year with its largest and most successful Homecoming parade ever held. This parade not only consisted of current enthusiastic students, but of spirited graduates and former Homecoming Queens going back to 1963. The parade started in Bowsher's parking lot at noon, twisted around the neighborhood, and then filed into the Bowsher stadium. The Junior's float "A Toast to 25" was picked as the winning float.

The Academic Hall of Fame was presented to Bowsher High School on Oct. 3, 1987. It was dedicated to the memory of Jim Ray who had planned this project for the celebration of Bowsher's 25th anniversary.

The Academic Hall of Fame consists of five plaques honoring the top ten seniors of each graduating class along with another plaque listing the National Merit Scholarship finalists of each year since 1963.

Located in the main hall of the school it is a reminder of the academic achievements of Bowsher students.

BASH

Graduates of Bowsher High School celebrate the 25th anniversary.

Bowsher High School celebrated its 25th anniversary by a weekend of activities for the Bowsher Alumni Silver Homecoming. The highlight was the dinner dance held at the new Toledo Convention Center on Saturday October 3, 1987. This memorable evening of socializing, reminiscing, dining and dancing brought together 1500 people whose lives had been touched by Bowsher. Every class was represented and class pictures were taken to the delight of each group of alumni. It was one of the most attended dinner functions in the city of Toledo. It was a tribute to a great high school.

REBELEES 1988

The 1988 production of REBELEES, "Abracadaver," was an off-beat comedy that took a stab at the traditional murder mystery. Set at Club Foote, a corrupt, out-dated nightclub, the play centered around the efforts of Luigi, a greedy, club-footed mafia boss (Tim Boerst) to put on a show despite the murders of an elderly magician at the club, Arthur Walker (Chuck Rogers) and later his young flirting widow, Luce (Jenny Sawchuck).

When Luigi threatens the other characters not to go to the police, the suspicious employees at the club are left to figure out which of them is the killer. Suspects include Bud (Khalil Rafati), a bartender who won't mind his own business; Vanessa (Holly Urbanus), the loud-mouthed and unpredictable assistant magician; Penny (Keller Pollock), a distraught and dizzy young waitress; Hardy (Jeff Morrissey), a wimpy and inept assistant manager at the club; Dummits (Chad Burger), a slow janitor with a fast vocabulary; and Reverend Caseharden (Matt Buchanan), Luce Walker's self-righteous preacher.

Thanks to the dedication and talent of the many students who were involved: actors; directors; Jazz Band; Rebelette Chorus Line; Talent acts; and the many committees, the show was a great success.

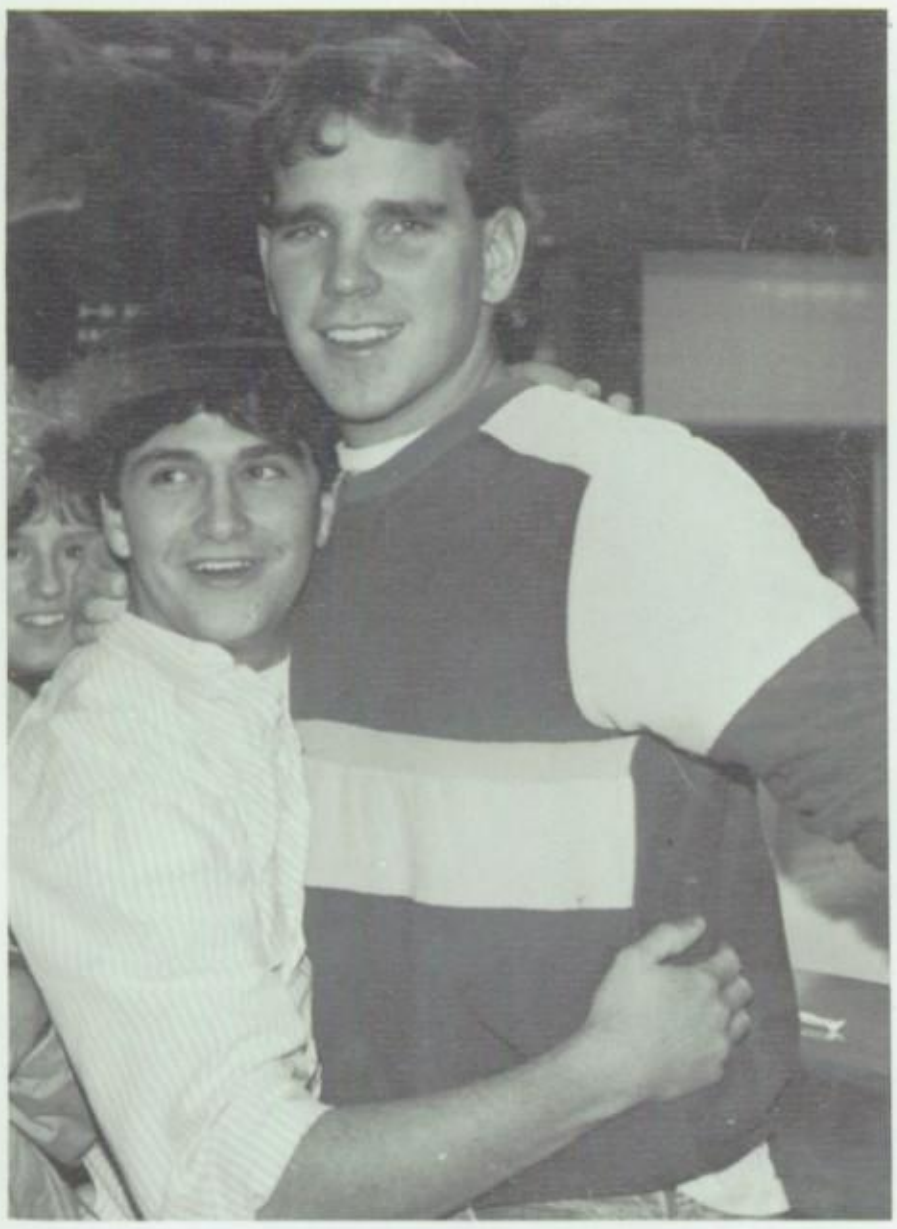
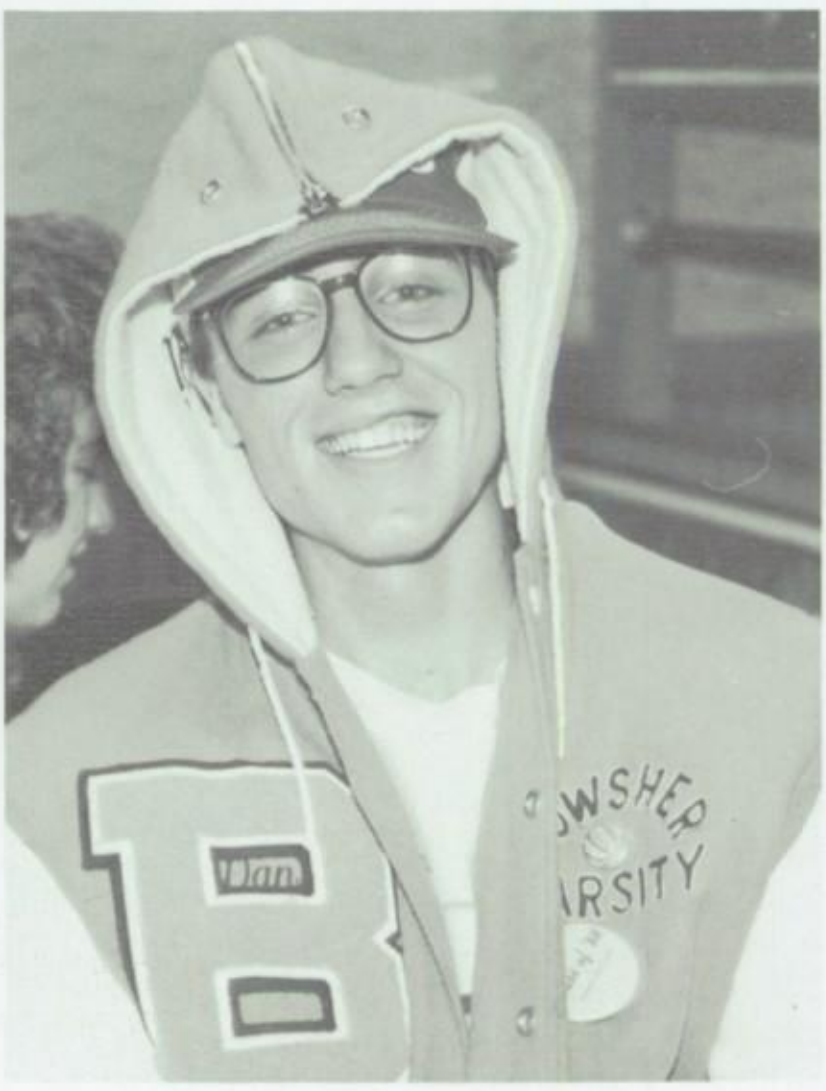
Night life makes up some of the best times and fondest memories of the high school years. Some of the favorite ways to spend an evening are going to parties and hanging out at Burger King and Southwyck. All the evenings spent out with friends create happy memories to be cherished in future years.

"Remember me?" (Burger King security guard)

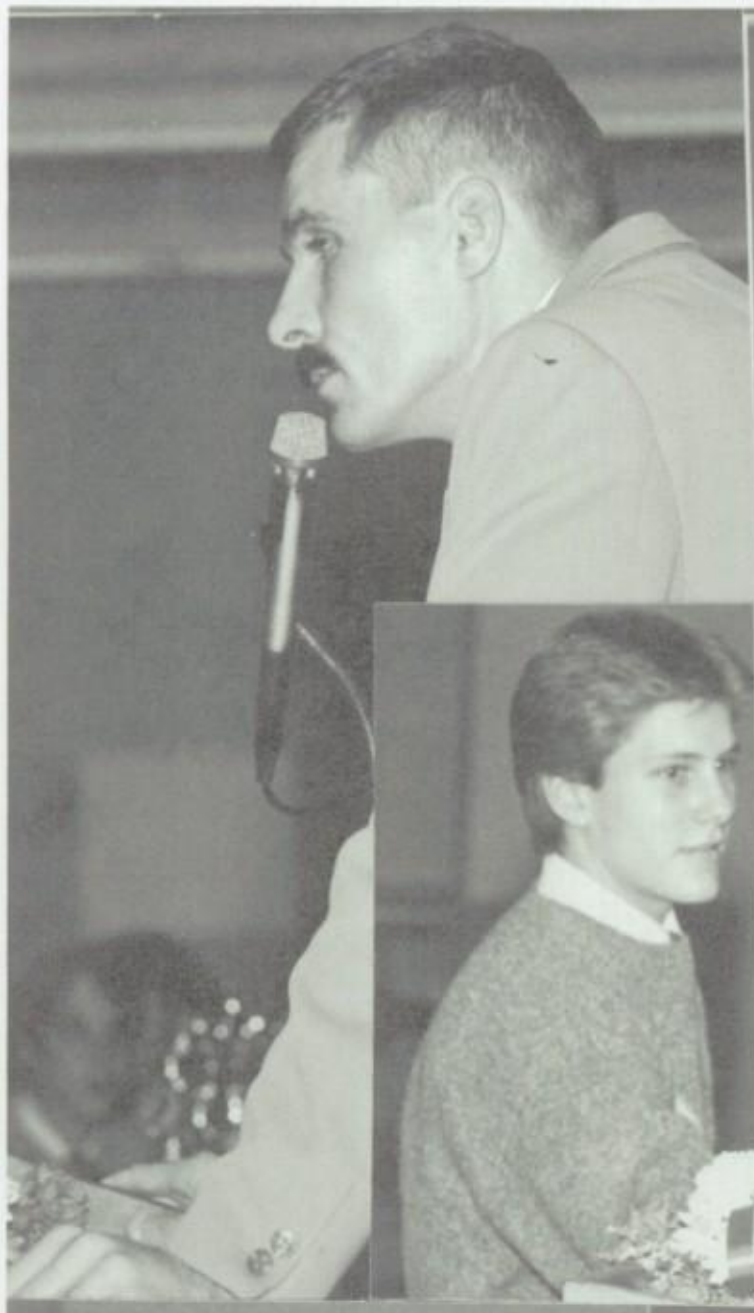
"Don't laugh at my penguins!" (Melissa Mease)

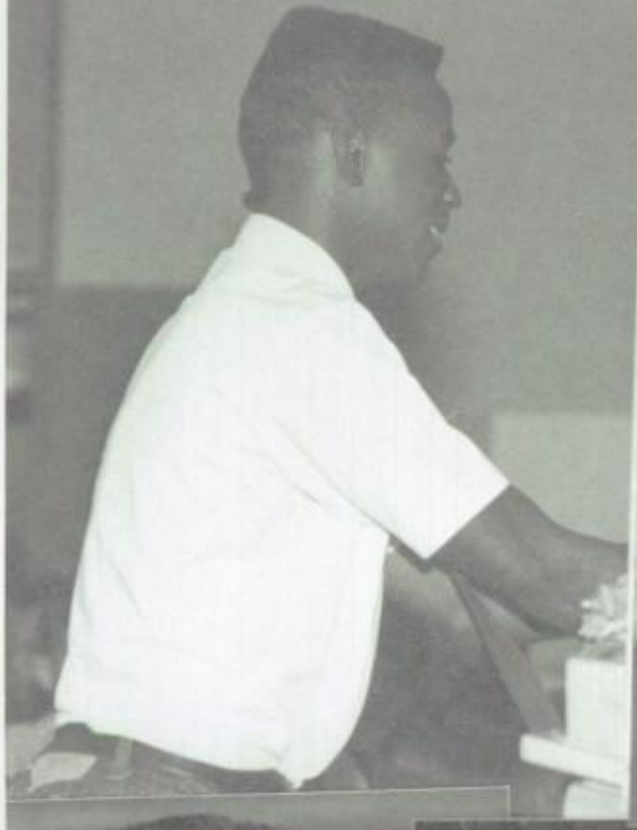


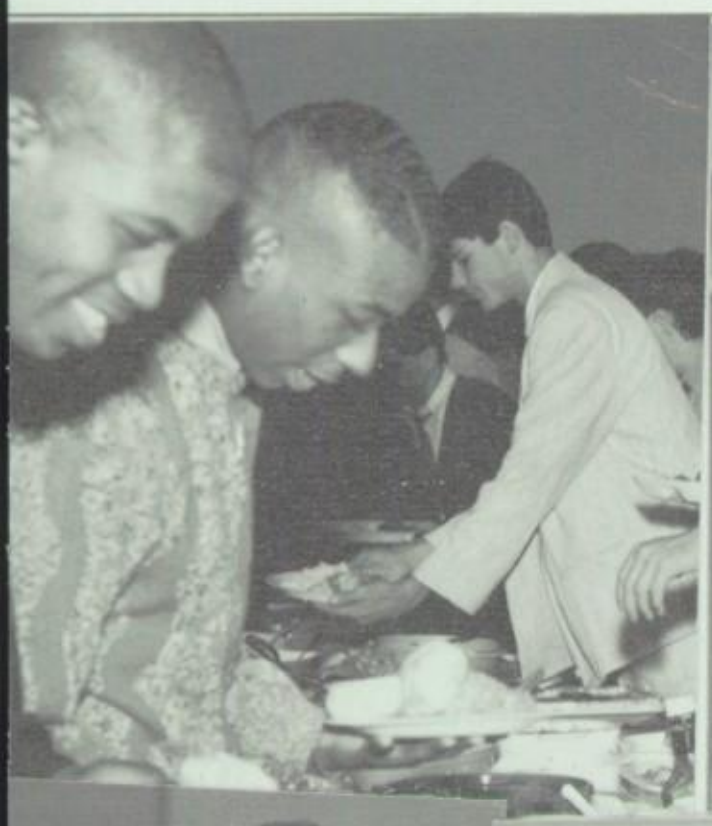
Joined at the waist, Siamese twins Dean Markwood and Brad Bottles would be separated only through miraculous laser surgery.



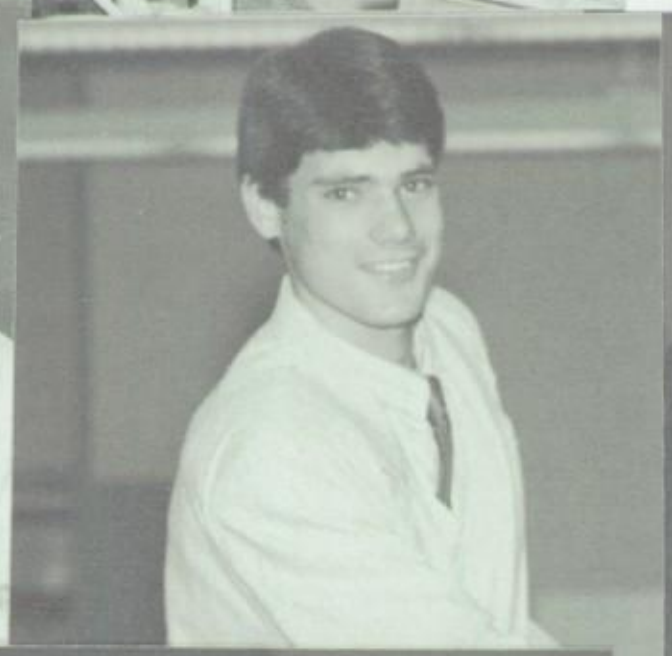
"I'm so cute!" (Dan Tomaszewski)







The Fall Sports Banquet was held on November 17, 1987. The banquet was pot luck; each player had to bring two dishes. Scott Bycyzinski won the Coaches Award, James Worthy won the Most Valuable Player award, Jeff Kilby won the Scout Player of the year and Alec Beekley won the Casey Mason Offense and Season Conditioning awards.



Foreign Language Festival

Clinetta Allen sung Somewhere Out There for the French Department.

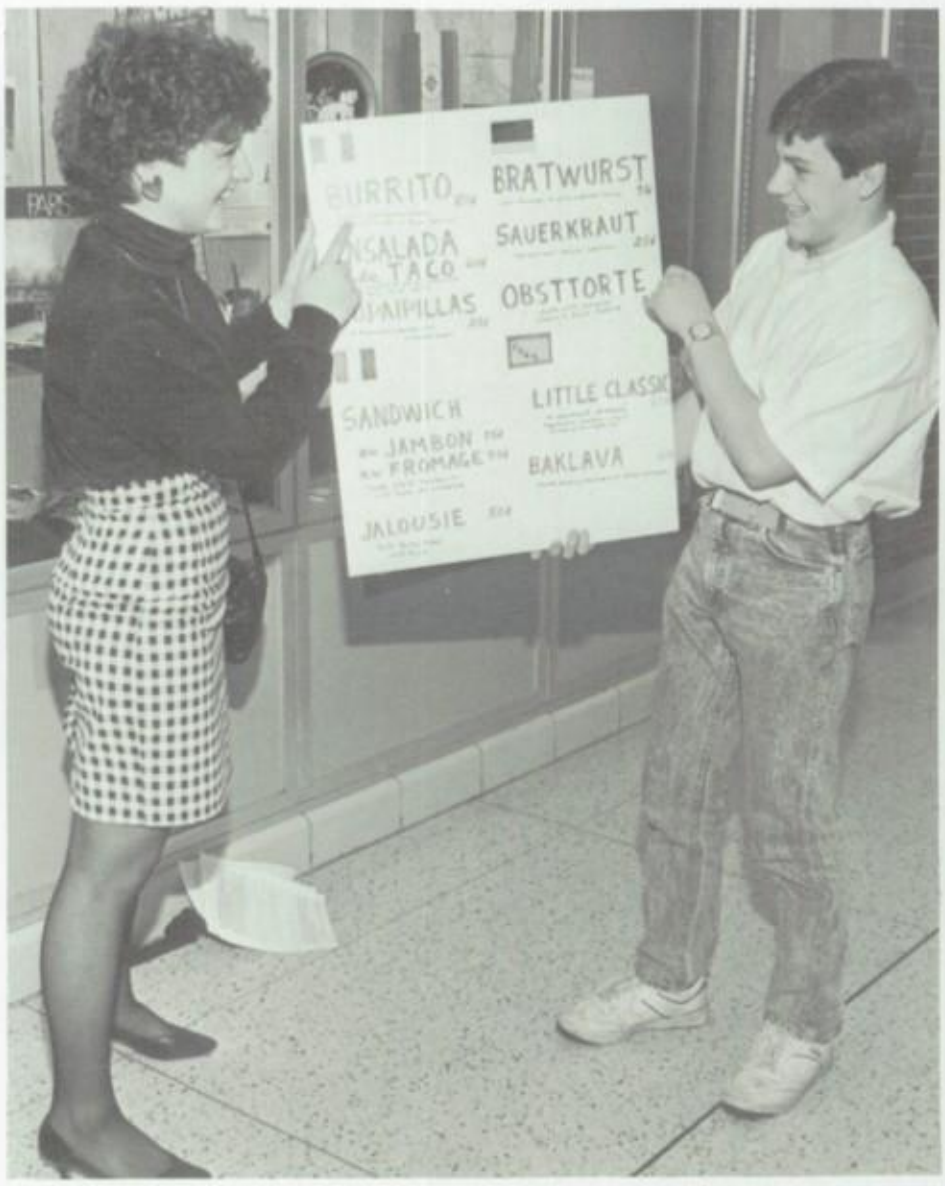
"Friendship Festival Flight" was the theme of the 13th annual Foreign Language Festival, which was held in the Bowsher cafeteria on Friday, February 26, 1988, from 4:00 to 6:30 p.m. This festival included cultural displays, entertainment provided by the students, and an International Buffet. Congratulations to the German, Spanish, Latin, and French students for making the evening an exciting success.



Amy King and Andy Schneider: The hosts for the festival.

Senior utility man James Worthy, shown her returning a kickoff, accounted for one of the Rebels' finest moments. After returning Waite's opening kickoff for a touchdown, James intercepted only seconds later on the Indians' first play from scrimmage — and returned that for a TD! The Rebs went on to win, 41-14.

Coaches Doug Nuendorf and Tom Zientek consult with the experts.

All-City honors went to receiver and tight end Jay Swisher, utility man James Worthy, and defensive powerhouse Scott Byczynski, all seniors who made an excellent show of guts and glory in their final year as Rebels.

Senior Fred Anderson received the Dave Kregel Courage Award, and who better to receive it? In his first year ever, Fred paced all running backs in both attitude and achievement, maintaining an 8-yard-per-carry average for part of the season. At his peak, Fred rushed for over 150 yards against Clay and was hailed as a phenomenon by local sportswriters and coaches. Although his performance eventually leveled off, his amazing first-year precedents will undoubtedly go unequalled for years to come.

A spirited Rebel gridiron squad, made up of many talented seniors, fought their way to a deceptive 4-6-0 record. But in spite of many setbacks — including having to play most of their "home games" at Rogers High School — it was for the most part an exciting and rewarding season.

Stability was not the name of the game, as Coach Doug Nuendorf attempted to choose a regular quarterback. Both Tony Khoury and Rosey Pope did a more-than-adequate job at the position, but the indecisiveness did not contribute to security and moral.

J.V. Football

Although the Junior team's season was mostly uneventful, Coach Mark Gysan expects the upcoming freshmen to provide a fine '88 season, and the players drawn up to the Varsity, it is hoped, will be of top caliber.

A key to Bowsher football future may be in the running game, which played an important part of every J.V. victory.

A big and strong group of Freshmen football players are a boon to future Bowsher Varsity teams. With impressive passing and rushing (for a Freshman team), and a solid 3-3 record, returning coach George Machoukas had a lot to be proud of.

Golf

Without last year's phenomenon Steve Stone to lead the way, the golf team had a great adjustment to make this year. No longer the "powerhouse" it once was, the team had to get right down to basics like hard work ... in the gym ... IN THE MIDDLE OF WINTER!

But the work paid off in the form of a fine season, the promise of better young golfers in the future, and an All-District champion by the name of Jim McGurk. With most of their team members returning, the '88 team may find themselves once again a Northwest Ohio golf leader.

Girls' Tennis

Four years of preparation led to the fruition of the girls' tennis program this year, a second-place finish in the city and a multitude of individual stars. Third-year captain Jenni Lane placed second at first singles in the city, while all other players earned similarly high honors in both singles and doubles competition.

The graduation of seniors Jenni Lane and Kristen Zulch will prove no distress to the remaining girls. Each one is an ace, and it can not be stated enough that they are the best team that Bowsher has boasted in a generation.

Boys' Cross Country

With almost no experience, this young team exemplified the old adage about where nice guys finish. But this determined band of young harriers deserves much credit for their perseverance, having barely enough players for a team.

Although he received no city-wide honors, first-year runner Jason Hychs finished first among Rebels in nearly every race — quite a feat!

Girls' Cross Country

This year's girls' cross country team had its ups and downs. Though the team's achievements were not especially noteworthy, several players earned individual honors.

Barb Bilow was the only girl to receive All-City honors, while senior Bridgett O'Halloran was presented with the True Grit Award at the fall sports banquet. Coach Terry Schnell noted that senior Lisa Dunlap also turned in a strong performance.

Varsity Volleyball

Front: Dyan Doriot, Kish-la Askins, Kris Katz, Jenni Curtis. Back: Kari Riebesell, Karen Sisinyak, Heidi Kinney, Coach Patti Ford, Edie Bowes, Denise Piraino, Britt Sautter.

The intense serving concentration of Karen Sisinyak.

A very experienced team, mostly seniors, would be expected to rely on those older players for performance and moral leadership. but oddly enough, it was Jenni Curtis, a junior, who earned the Coaches Award.

That's not to say that the seniors didn't contribute. Karen Sisinyak earned All-City honors while leading the crew to an 11-7 record.

Dyan Doriot listens intently to Heidi Kinney.

Heidi Kinney shows good bumping technique.

JV Volleyball

"Isn't she adorable?!" (Jennifer Buchanan, Joy Crossfield)

At least somebody has the spirit. (Joy Crossfield)

A young junior varsity volleyball team performed as well as anyone could ask this season, finishing with a winning record and the promise of a strong replacement team for the Varsity's graduating seniors. Upcoming juniors Joy Crossfield, Megan Coyle, and Jennifer Buchanan were considered by coach Cherle Henke to be her most valuable players.

Under coach Dan Contreras, the soccer team represented Bowsher in fine fashion in 1987. After winning their own invitational tournament early in the season, the Rebels went on to a 10-4-2 finish.

Individual honors were abundant. Sophomore Matt Contreras, along with co-captains Kane Kretzinger and Rob Gottfried, received All-City and All-Star recognition, as did Brian Corson. Gottfried led the team with 22 goals over the course of the season, and Contreras was named Most Valuable Player of the Bowsher Invitational.

Players hope that this year's accomplishments will attract more fans and players in the area to this exciting but underrated sport.

The hockey team, although not a champion, played well enough to enter the state tournament in February. Led by seniors Terry Desmond, Andrew Moser, Tim Timko, Ben Harley, Bubba Williams, and Dale Burkhardt, the icers provided many exciting games and another successful season for Coach Don Hamilton.

Hockey games, played at the Mid-American Civic Center (Ice House), are a favorite attraction for socializing students on weekends. Unfortunately, several games this year were marred with violence — giving birth to the "red ice."

Senior Moser comments, "There's more to hockey than fighting. The skating, the shooting. It's exciting and fun, and we don't need fights to draw fans. People come to see us for our skill as hockey players." Some administrators have suggested banning the sport, but fans and players agree that the sport is too popular to be judged by a few isolated incidents.

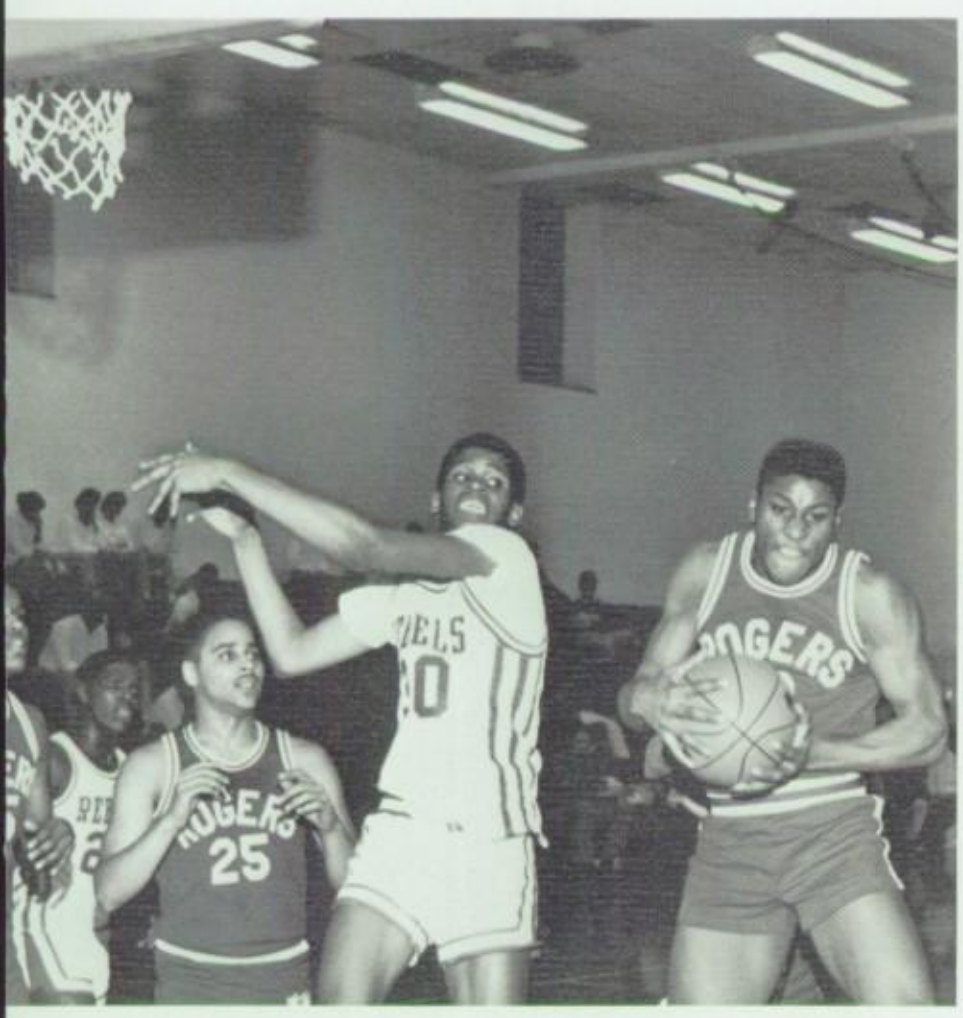
With a host of talented seniors, the varsity basketball team was expected to perform more gallantly than they did this season. In spite of each individual's potential the team suffered still another losing season.

Many games that should have been big losses, however, became the most exciting contests — particularly against state-ranked Macomber, who defeated the Rebels by only ten points. An early-season struggle for the blue division lead lent a sense of excitement to the traditional St. John's rivalry — even though traditionally, as this year, St. John's wins.

The Rebel's biggest asset is the upcoming class of J.V. players, who, lacking tremendous size and speed, performed remarkably well against tough opponents such as Clay and Waite.



A Rogers defender steals a rebound from Aundre Kizer.

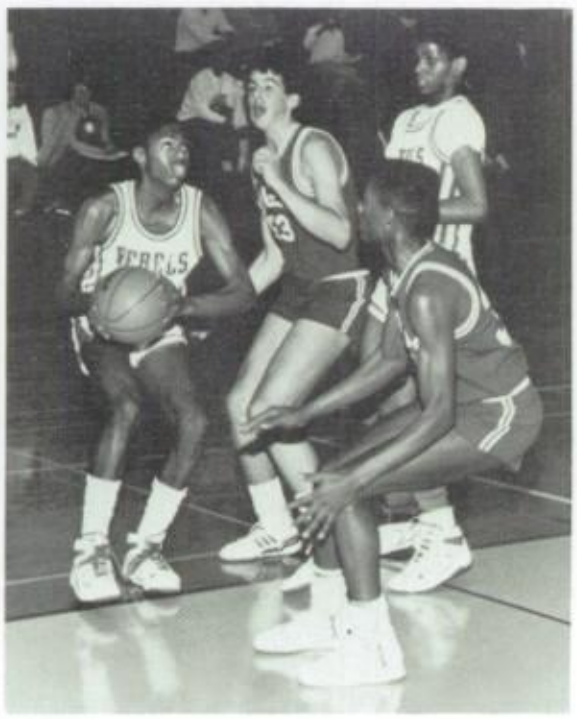
Boys' J.V. Basketball

Coach: Keith Lowe. Players: Joe McGinnis, Claudell Whitehead, Damon Bester, S.T. Johnson, Brett Biggs, Damon Hall, Maurice Bates, Rob Woodley, Eric Tucker. Ballboy: Chad Lowe.



According to Junior Varsity coach Keith Lowe, every player on the team is good, although none are outstanding yet — which is reflected in the team's consistently competitive, if not winning, record. Coach Lowe cited Damon Bester, who averaged nearly 15 points per game, as one of the best prospects for the future of Bowsher basketball.

When new head Coach Larry Matecki took over this year, many wondered if the girl's basketball team would suffer from the readjustment. But fortunately, Coach Matecki inherited seven spirited seniors who helped forge an exciting season.

As usual, the Rebels' losses came mostly in close games — even to an outstanding Rogers squad. Coach Matecki cited injuries as key factors in several losses, particularly to DeVilbiss. He also stressed teamwork — that "the whole line-up was needed" to win.

The graduation of senior co-captains Heidi Kinney and Charlene Ritter, as well as all-city standout Keri Reibesell, will leave the Lady Rebels without some of their greatest resources — and Coach Matecki with the difficult task of rebuilding a winning team.

Seen here reviewing strategy with his team, Coach Larry Matecki has to find the "winning combination" of patience and skill to build a good season.

Throughout many seasons of Bowsher's major athletic teams, one consistency has been the finely tuned antics of the Rebel cheerleading squad. In even the most disastrous of routs, the crew works hard to keep spirits high.

Cheerleaders are required to be members of the Pep Club, and are chosen for their spirit as well as their ability to perform on the football field or basketball court.

Advisor Fadia Hallick stresses the pleasures of working with the girls, describing a family-like atmosphere. She says the Varsity are "very protective" and supportive of their younger J.V. sisters.

The wrestling team, led by senior Alec Beekley, made its mark as the most successful Rebel athletic squad of the 1987-88 school year. Although the entire team did well, all eyes were on Beekley as he entered the regional competition. Also winning individual honors was sophomore Chad Wojciechowski.

Even after this year's seniors are graduated, rising stars Rob York and Norm White, along with the rest of the team promise to make the coming season best it can be.

This year marked the beginning of what many hope will become a tradition — male cheerleaders at the powderpuff football games. About twenty male students eagerly took part in the activity, and were hailed for both their courage and their enthusiasm.

Now, if they could only develop some cheerleading skills.

Coach Terry Schnell says the "program is moving upward. Colleges are taking notice of the caliber of student-athletes now running track here and are making offers of scholarships."

Coach Schnell cited his best players as Whitney Kevin (all-city first team for three years), Sarah Flack (3rd in city, discus), Jeanette Saunders, and Gina Moore. The team is expected to continue to improve in the future, as the competitors work harder to gain the elusive city title.

Junior Knothole

The purpose of Junior Knothole is to give extra playing time to upcoming freshmen or players who were not called up to Varsity after the spring season. Coach Huffman stresses the fundamentals of baseball to his players, and it works. Coach Huffman has never had a losing team.

Players generally show great improvement with extra practice in the summer. Typically, three or four players are called up to Varsity at the end of the Junior Knothole Season.

Suburban League

When the spring season ends, the Varsity baseball team enters the Suburban League, comprised of both suburban and Toledo teams. Seniors from the previous spring season are not eligible to play in the league, so that the following year's team has time to practice together. The competition in the league is generally considered to be tougher than Senior Knothole, which consists of mostly Toledo teams.

The summer '87 Suburban League season was a boon to Bowsher boosters who have been victory-starved for years. Although the team ended the regular season with an even record, the Rebels came together as a team for the championship tournament. In the title game, the Rebs scratched past the Waite Indians, 6-5.

With most of the team returning for the '88 spring season, hopes were high for Bowsher's first City League championship since 1974.

Powderpuff Football

Betty Jane Lowrie hustles for the goal line--but will be stopped short (see article, next page).

Powderpuff Football is an annual event which gives girls the opportunity to play a normally all-male game, and guys the chance to coach and instruct them. After several weeks of practice, the season culminates with the Junior-Senior game and the Freshmen-Sophomore game.

Most football rules apply, with the exception of tackling — the girls wear flags which represent a tackle when removed.

(Row four) Tiffany Packard, Melissa Goetting, Michelle McHugh, Peggy McCounoghy.

Juniors

As every year, the Junior-Senior powderpuff game drew hundreds of fans. Study-worn students parted with fifty cents to get out of ninth hour. Many records may have been set that day. The quarterback may have passed for five hundred yards. There may have been an eighty yard punt. The coaching may have been brilliant.

But no one knows because no one kept any statistics.

What is known is that the final score was 0-0. In spite of the low scoring, offense and defense alike were thrilling to see — as one might expect, in a game such as this many interesting, and sometimes intentional, plays develop. The unpredictability of the game lends to its mystique.

The Sophomore-Freshmen game may have been exciting also, but we were unable to find anyone who was on hand to find out. Rumor has it that the score of that game, too, was 0-0.

Kris Katz makes a spectacular catch as Britt Sautter defends.

Violence on the Volleyball Court

In a stunning piece of photojournalism, Apogee photographer Mario Ortiz captured the furious eruption of volleyball coach Patty Ford.

Above left, we see the cutting glare of Miss Ford as our photographer violates the "No Pictures" rule of pregame warm-ups. The second picture was taken only moments later; the camera went off by itself as our photographer was stunned by the crushing blow of a murderously spiked volleyball.

Luckily, Mario came out of the incident uninjured. The Apogee only hopes that in the future, incidents such as these may be avoided. (This article was written in a humorous vain and is not intended as a reflection on those mentioned. — Ed.)

. . . Where Credit Is Due . . .

Many thanks to the following people for their contributions:

Mr. Charles Darnell and Mr. Lou Schira, for their help in obtaining scores, pictures, et cetera.

Mr. Ron Schlievert and Mr. Terry E. Schnell, for their wonderful cooperation in getting cross country and track information. Their enthusiasm is inspiring.

Andrew J. Moser, who was willing to go anywhere, anytime to get what we needed.

Mario Ortiz, for his sincere efforts. Yes, we did use some of your pictures!

Bill Birner, who came through in the end.

Foreign Exchange Student

Murilo Ferriera, fifteen year old from Brazil, spent six months in Toledo as a foreign exchange student, attending Bowsher High School. Murilo, who misses his family and friends in Brasilia, Brazil, says that life in the U.S. is very different from home. In Brazil, he swims and plays soccer year round. While in Toledo, he has seen snow for the first time, and gone skiing. Murilo says he greatly prefers the blazing sun of Brazil to the cold, white stuff in Toledo. Murilo has studied English for four years, although he speaks in Portugese and Spanish at home. He says that school in America is much easier than the ones he attended in Brazil, partially due to the fact that the teachers at Bowsher have been so helpful with his studies. Although he speaks limited English, and life here is so different than at home, he has at least one characteristic in common with the rest of the teenagers at Bowsher — he doesn't like cafeteria food either!

Murilo Ferriera

"I Do Not Like this song!"

"SQUEAK!!!"

"Did you hear the one about the old man and the Monkey?"

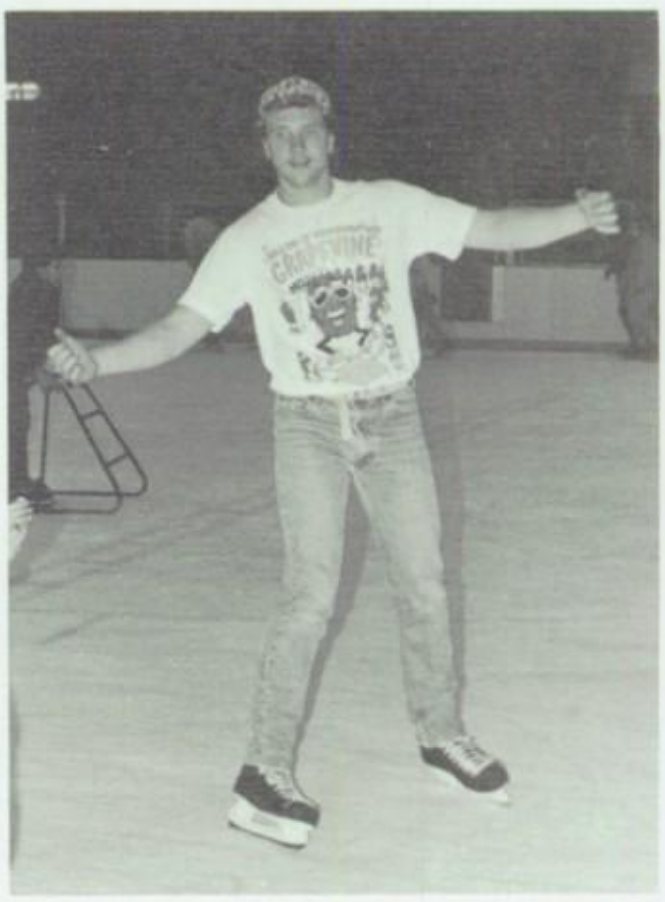
Cochocton or Bust!!

"Dude!!"

"Oh where Oh Where has my little horn gone?"

What a rowdy bunch!!

"Wave hi to the camera Kittie" (Kellie Payne, Lauryl Hanf)



"I can skate!"

"Hey don't forget that car I asked for, Santa!"

"What do you mean, Do it again?"

"I can skate too, really!"

Playing with his heart

Pile up!!!

This punch is absolutely disgusting!!

What's Cooking?

"Trust Me"

"It tastes fine, really!!"

"The lights are on, but no one's home!"

"Don't say it!!"

Ling Dixon liven it up at the German Club picnic.

Life's a what, Steve? (Amy Kelsey, Steve Ogren)

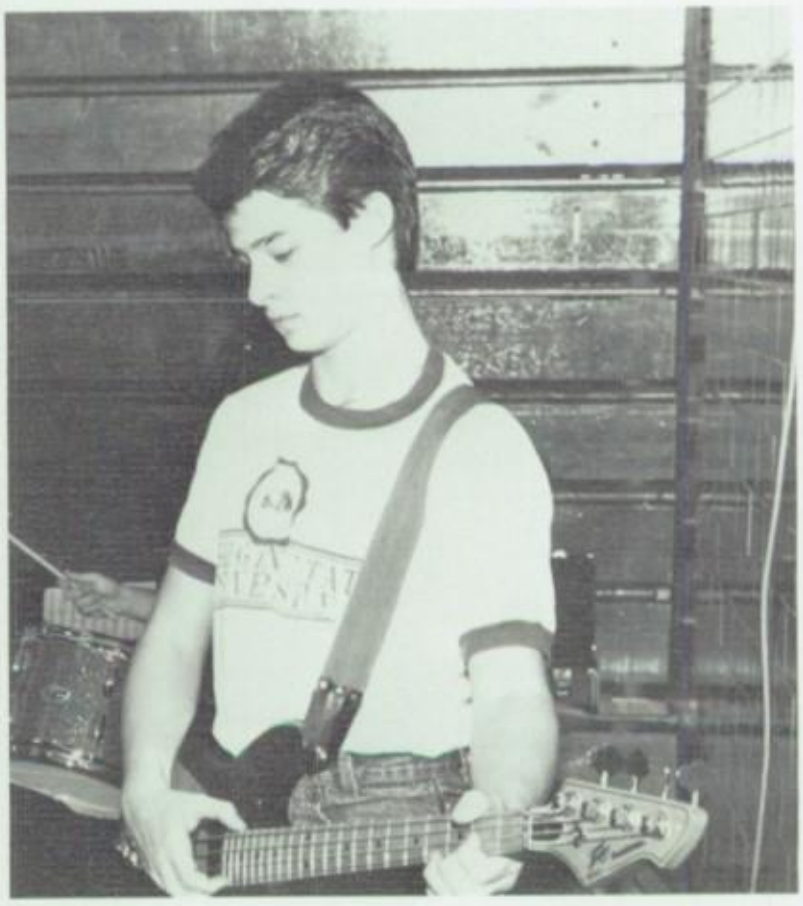
Bugle Boy, Grant Koechel

A one, a two, a one, two, three

We be jammin.

I just love the drums!

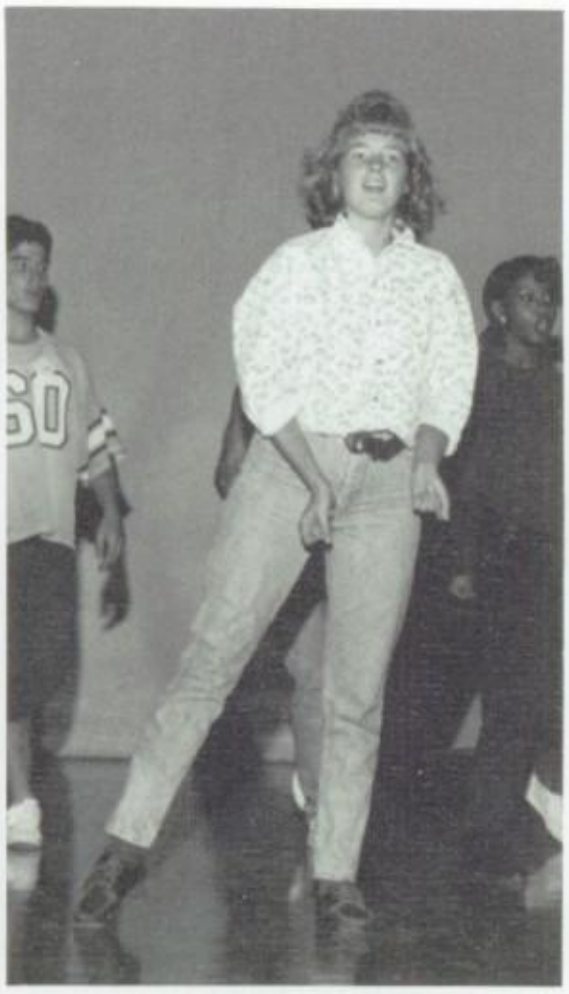
Little Boy Blue, go blow your horn.



Oh no! Where are we?

Gee — this is fun!

Hah — you want me to sing this?



Shake it, Sandy, shake it!

Come on, Mrs. Mackey, you promised me we'd sing some heavy metal today.

1, 2, 3 . . . Toss!!!

Erica tries to find her place.

Ken Jerzbozki

Apogee Quotes

Are you going to the hockey game this weekend?!
Who thiefed my ruler??
Let me see your tatoo!
This is neither the time nor the place, Wendy!
You have irregular ankles..
Where's the cropper??
A.J.'s Chinese secret . . .
Can't you guys help me find a Homecoming date, please??
We love you, Jason!!
Revenge is sweet!
Deans of Yearbook
You're gonna get penalties for that!!
Seventy-nine Whoppers with cheese, please . . .
Where's Chris?
In jail!
Quit whining, Patti.
I don't whiiiine!!
It's only Chris, don't let him in . . .
I'm getting nervous . . .
Go away, Chris!!
Miss Papps??!!
I'm gonna run you down with my bike . . .
Lake Tahoe lives on!!

RETROSPECT

"Educated men are as much superior to uneducated men as the living are to the dead." (Aristotle)

"So live a little." (Owens-Illinois)

A Toledo-based multinational, multi-billion dollar manufacturer and marketer of packaging materials and health care services takes this opportunity to express support for education and for the young men and women who will make tomorrow just a little bit better than today.

All of us in the Heider Family have been blessed with many "Precious Moments" during the years we have been associated with Bowsher High School. When Lori graduates this year, we no longer will have anyone in the student body but the special memories of Bowsher will always be with us and we will treasure them. We are proud of the wonderful job that Lori has done as editor of the Yearbook and wish to express our congratuations to her and all of the Apogee staff for producing a very special edition!!
